BACKGROUND

In 2005 the Village amended Chapter 17-45, Section 901.4 of the Municipal Code to require all new fire alarm systems to meet the requirements of the Underwriter’s Laboratory (UL) certification process. The amendment also required existing alarm systems to meet UL Certification requirements if altered or added to by greater than 50%. The certification is required to be maintained by each fire alarm system owner. The UL certification program was adopted to ensure that fire alarm systems are installed and maintained in a quality manner and to reduce the amount of time that fire alarm systems are out of service.

The cost for performing a UL Certification is dictated by the individual alarm system contractor and is borne entirely by the business that is the alarm user. The costs for UL certification vary among alarm contractors and have significantly increased since the adoption of the ordinance. The Fire Prevention Bureau has refined its processes and training to ensure the same level of compliance without the need for third-party certification. Staff recommends amending the code to remove the UL certification program and the requirement to use a UL listed alarm contractor.
